DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities: Appropriate correction is required.

Regarding claim 1, line 3, the letter N" is not described what is referred to.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Mai et al (US 2004/0036636 A1) (hereinafter as Mai).

Regarding claim 1, Mai discloses a method for data communication comprising: generating a train of plurality of pulses (see [0006] showing that sigma-delta DAC can be used to convert an oversampled pulse code modulation ("PCM") input into a one-bit pulse density modulation ("PDM")); modulating the train of pulses an N-tone Sigma-Delta modulator (see [0016], see Figures 3c, 4c).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 2611

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fullerton et al (U.S. Pat. 5,677,927) (hereinafter as Fullerton) in view of Mai et al (US 2004/0036636 A1) (hereinafter as Mai).

Regarding claim 1, Fullerton discloses an impulse radio communication system which generates a train of pulses and uses pulse position modulation to modulate the train of pulses. Fullerton fails to disclose a N-tone Sigma-Delta modulator used to modulate the pulses.

Mai discloses a use of the N-tone Sigma-Delta modulator for modulating the pulses (see [0016], see Figures 3c, 4c). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to utilize the N-tone Sigma-Delta modulator for modulating the pulses as taught by Mai into the teachings of Fullerton in order to randomize the baseband noise floor such that there is no idle tone in the useful frequency region (see [0016]).

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Frannhagen et al (U.S. Pat. 6,175,321) disclose an apparatus and a method for sigma-delta modulation.

Soundarapandian et al (U.S. Pat. 6,611,221) disclose a sigma-delta modulator.

Shibahara et al (US 2004/0207437 A1) disclose a phase locked loop.
